

..... is working
well when:

We're designing the investigations.

We're using scientific vocabulary confidently.

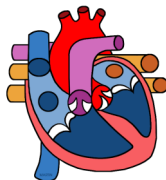

We're all engaged in something new, interesting, or fun!

We're being supported and challenged as needed.

We're not afraid to make mistakes, and learn from them.

We're asking questions and having quality discussions.

